Outdoor Learning Workshop - Leading Groups in Upland Environments

Date: Friday 25th September 2026

Time: 9:30am – 3:00pm

Location: Horton-in-Ribblesdale – Pen-y-Ghent, Yorkshire Dales

Tutors: Charlie Pyatt (Leeds Well School Partnership) & Phil Jackson (Former LCC Health & Safety Advisor)

Who Should Attend?

This workshop is designed for any staff currently delivering or looking to lead groups in outdoor environments.

It is particularly relevant for teachers covering the KS2 National Curriculum 'Mountains' topic, so please share with colleagues teaching geography or outdoor learning.

This training is recognised by Leeds City Council and can be added to staff training profiles on Evolve. Staff from Academies or Trusts should confirm training requirements before registering.

Cost

Free for Leeds Well School Partnership schools (included in membership)

Workshop Overview

A hands-on day walking to the summit of Pen-y-Ghent, with practical guidance and group discussion on managing safety, logistics, and group leadership in upland environments.

What to Bring

- ◆ Outdoor clothing suitable for hill walking and any weather conditions
- ◆ Rucksack with your usual group-walking kit
- ◆ Your own food and drink for the day

How to Register

Visit the Leeds Well School Partnership website to sign up.

A confirmation email with further details (including parking) will be sent one week prior.
